

Tips for Social Stories:

Write in first person, using 'I, we, my, us, our, me' statements when writing your social story provides context for the person with disability that this is about them.

I = Me

You should use clear, simple and informative language when providing your information.

Clear, easy-to-read photos help provide visual cues for people with disability.

I can ride my bike to get home.